

CAP AND GOWN CLUB Connect to Cap

News from the Board Chair

Tom Fleming '69

Dear Cap Members,

I am pleased to report that the Cox Wing is on time and on budget, and our undergrad members were able to use the Cox Wing for the first time for Houseparties weekend. We are on track to have our Grand Opening during Reunions on June 1st. Our magnificent two-story addition will meet multiple needs.

On the main level, the 1,750 square feet of new above-ground space along Roper Lane is divided into three sections: the 1965 Pavilion provides a southern view looking out over our sunny back courtyard and tailgate lawn and on to the stadium; the REG Room named after three section mates from 1973 (Burke Ross, Tom Edelman, and Ben Guill) looks out towards our expansive front lawn which will soon include a new terrace and garden; the Main Hall is a center atrium that is still an open naming opportunity with an impressive fireplace named for the Class of 1992 engraved with the legendary quote from Herman Heydt, Jr. '29, "When I enter this club, I feel happy inside."

On the basement level, the 1,750 square feet of new underground space will provide a much-needed Employee Staff Room, named for our club steward Dennis Normile. The additional basement storage space will allow us to manage operations more efficiently and will satisfy the Princeton fire marshal who has been on the verge of fining us for various violations stemming from a lack of sufficient storage space in our current clubhouse.

Karl Pettit '67 has been working diligently with our architects to provide Board oversight of the project and has designed a North Terrace and a North Garden that will be beautiful new spaces that are still available as naming opportunities. Dennis Keller '63 has provided matching funds for a Cap member or section who would like to have a named bench in the new garden.

The Cox Wing has been designed to provide a beautiful space in different seasons and for different events. In warm weather, high quality sliding glass doors (NanaWalls) on three sides can be opened to provide an outdoor room, fresh air, and a cool, shaded space for our members and for summer rentals. In colder weather, the central gas fireplace will provide warmth and a cozy space for studying and socializing.

On a day-to-day basis, there will be a mix of tables and chairs as well as couches and easy chairs, which can be used for studying and eating. For special events like HouseParties, Winter Formals, Graduation, and Reunions, the furniture will be replaced with dining tables and chairs, eliminating the need for costly tent rentals for Cap and Gown events – and for rentals to alumni as Cap does a good wedding business in the off season.

With the completion of the Friend Wing in 2011 and the Cox Wing in 2019, Cap and Gown will be set to meet the needs of our members for the generations ahead. Cap and Gown is the most popular club on “the Street.” Our next objective will be to make the Cap experience accessible to all Princeton students, including the 60% on financial aid who still need to pay a premium, even if they are on full financial aid, to join the club. This past year, Cap began providing financial aid for members who apply and demonstrate the highest need based on the Princeton financial aid package.

We are very fortunate that Cap members are generous and loyal in their support of the club, giving us the financial flexibility to meet these multiple needs. As we complete the construction of the Cox Wing, please continue to give generously so we reach our $1.2 million goal and emerge from this “Cap”stone project debt free. We need $200,000 more to reach the goal! See inside for remaining naming opportunities – the last available for the foreseeable future.

Please make plans to come to the club for Reunions on June 1st or this fall when there will be two big home football games – the Harvard Game on October 26th and the Yale Game on November 16th. And please give generously to help us complete the Cox Wing.

The Club Scene

Dear Cap Alumni,

Greetings from 61 Prospect Ave! My name is Polly Hochman, and I'm honored to have been elected to the role of president here at the Illustrious Cap and Gown. I am so grateful to the Cap community for all that it has given me over the past year, and I look forward to working with the rest of the 2019-2020 Officer Corps, the Grad Board, and Dennis Normile, our club manager, to continue to maintain and improve this wonderful place that I am proud to call my home on campus.

We kicked off spring semester with Bicker. Cap continued to have the largest number of bickerees of all the bicker clubs on the street with a whopping 287. This number is up from Bicker sessions last year. Discussions, led by senior Bicker Chair Jacob Schwartz '19 with assistance from senior Technology Chair Ryan McCaffrey '19, went smoothly. Following a week of late nights and weekend of pickups and sign-ins, we are proud to announce that we have added 98 new sophomores and 2 new juniors to our Cap family.

The following week we held officer elections. We hit the ground running with a Valentine's Day semi-formal to welcome the sophomores. Members enjoyed delicious hors d'oeuvres prepared by Chef Greg and the kitchen staff. Social Chair Jona Mojados '20 planned a fabulous event that included a live band, beautiful decorations, and stations for members to write valentines to each other.

Following the flurry of bicker and planning semis, we have started to settle into our weekly routines. Jona has been planning members nights on Mondays and movie Wednesdays. One highlight was a "Cap Family" event where each sophomore was paired with a junior and a senior to play get-to-know-you games and facilitate bonding across classes in the club. It has been great to see movie Wednesdays so well attended by members of all classes coming together to relax and de-stress in the middle of the week. Club nights on Thursdays have continued to have delicious themed meals and drinks through the efforts of Vice President Arielle Lawson '20, Bicker Chair Laura Zecca '20, and Chef Greg.

Treasurer Matthew Hetrick '20 has been busy collecting dues from sophomore members and budgeting for this spring. House Manager Curtis Leonard '20 has been working on keeping the club-house in good condition. This has even included helping to make fires in the fireplace for the occasional s'mores evening! Members have also been enjoying participating in intramural sports, coordinated by Athletics Chair Ian Lawrie '20. Our broomball and basketball games have been very exciting and we have advanced to the playoffs for IM basketball and broomball!

Our new Culturally Cap Chairs, Bojan Lazarevic '20 and Sneha Iyer '20, have gotten right to work, continuing to highlight members of the week and planning a midterms Hoagie Haven study break. Our Sustainability Chair Riley Wagner '20 has been working on putting together a monthly Cap Sustainability Newsletter to send out to members to raise awareness about how much energy the club uses and updates on other future sustainability initiatives. Additionally, instead of having two sustainability chairs, we have added the position of Safety Chair and are excited about the opportunities this will afford to continue to make sure everyone and everything is safe on nights when we are open to the street and at other members' events. So far our new Safety Chair Kate Andre '20 has worked on making the schedule for and coordinating with members who are on safety duty.

Beyond the Cap community, both our senior and junior Community Service Chairs, Morgan Bell '19, Allison Shim '19, and Kennan Ewing '20 worked hard on Truckfest, an annual fundraiser run by the Community Service Inter-Club Council, which was held on Prospect Avenue on April 20th to support Meals on Wheels and Send Hunger Packing!

As we move towards the end of the semester, we've been busy planning for Houseparties with the theme "May the 4th be with you!," and we were delighted to have this event mark a preview of the Cox Wing. We are excited for the Grand Opening of the Cox Wing during this year's Reunions followed by the bittersweet graduation of our seniors! We hope to see many of you at Reunions and if you are ever in the area, please don't hesitate to stop by. Come grab a meal, check out the beautiful Cox Wing.

All the best,
Polly Hockman '20
President

Dennis Keller '63 has offered to match your donation 1:1, so you can name a bench for a pledge of $7,500. The North Garden will be a lovely garden along Roper Lane that takes advantage of our large front yard to create a welcoming space entering the club from Prospect Avenue. With our increased space on the lower level of the club, we'll be able to provide our staff with a room for relaxation during breaks in their hectic schedule. ### The Great Dinky Train Robbery

The greatest Princeton and Cap and Gown prank of all time

The holy grail of Princeton pranks, likely the greatest college prank of all time, occurred on the Friday of Houseparties weekend in 1963. The Princetoniana Museum has posted previously unseen documentary film of what has been described as the last train holdup in America.

The Great Train Robbery: In 1963, one last tweak at tradition.

Late afternoon on Friday, May 3 — Houseparties weekend — the P. J. & B., now known as the Dinky shuttle from Princeton Junction, was packed with the usual spring-suited commuters and college women traveling to campus. The shuttle rumbled along on its 10-minute journey back from the Junction. Suddenly, the engineer spotted a driverless convertible straddling the rails, and braked. From out of the woods appeared a horse at full gallop, its masked rider brandishing a six-shooter. As the train ground to a halt, the engineer threw up his hands.

Three other horsemen appeared, all wearing cowboy garb and bandanas over their faces. They dismounted and boarded the train. “Stay in your seats, everyone!” the leader yelled, firing his pistol with a deafening percussion. Several women screamed. Some men in business suits looked amused, but others fumbled for their billfolds. One held out his gold watch.

The intruders sauntered down the center aisle. “That’s the one I want!” the leader shouted, and he grabbed a young woman in a blue dress. The young man beside her put up a fight, then watched the woman being pulled toward the train door, down the metal stairs toward the horses. The three other cowboys followed, each grabbing a wrist and hauling a primly dressed college student down the aisle. Outside, the riders and the four women struggled onto the backs of the horses and rode into the woods. The convertible already had been removed, and the train lurched forward and slowly resumed its journey to Princeton Station.

When it arrived, the campus platform was swollen with undergraduates expecting their dates. “We were just held up,” a young voice shouted. Word spread. A legend had begun.

The spectacular ploy was carried out by three Cap and Gown seniors — George Bunn '63, a respected New York attorney but then a well-known prankster who shared his room with an illegal pet ocelot, broke the then-famous cohabitation rule with impunity, and attacked rival Cottage Club with a bulldozer; Sam Perry '63; and John Williams '63. Walt Goodridge '64, an architecture student and cheerleader, did much of the legwork.

Two of the kidnapped women were undergraduates from Smith College. Randol Foote Haffner recalls sitting with her friend Susie Wolfe that Friday when Goodridge, Bunn, and Perry explained the plan and recruited them. A couple of men were planted on the train with the women. Goodridge rented horses from the stable by Lake Carnegie, and a party with the costumes and guns met the riders in the woods. A team was assigned to drive the convertible onto the tracks and off. The horses balked along the shore of Lake Carnegie; Goodridge remembers getting off and leading his skittish horse on foot. “Fortunately,” he says, “the others followed.”

After robbing the train, the horsemen, each with a woman rider, headed toward campus. “The horses were really into it,” Goodridge recalls. “Mine wanted to gallop, and you have to remember that none of us was an experienced horseman. When we got near Brown Hall, I remember all the freshmen coming out and cheering us as we passed. That’s when my horse rose up on his hind legs, like in a Western.” The riders proceeded up Prospect Street. Bunn rode up the Colonial Club walkway and onto the porch. The other three riders headed over to Cap and Gown, where Bo Diddley was playing out front. Bo and his musicians seemed amused.

Princeton Eating Clubs benefit from the leadership and collaboration of multiple groups that touch on the many aspects of the students' club experience and responsible management of eleven individual clubs. Cap and Gown members play a strong role in these organizations.

- The Graduate Interclub Council (GICC), a council of the Graduate Board Chairs of the clubs, has provided the most senior oversight of club management for many decades and meets three times a year to review club operations. Our Cap Board Chair, Tom Fleming '69, has been the Chair of the GICC for 7 years. Cap member Lisa Schmucki '74, has served as an advisor to the GICC for the past 6 years.
- The Interclub Council (ICC), a council of the undergraduate Club Presidents, is another long-standing institution that meets weekly during the year. Meetings are attended by the ICC Advisor, JC Arenas '16 (former Charter Club President and ICC President) and Dean Bryant Blount '08 (Assistant Dean of Undergraduate Students and also a member of Cap and Gown).
- The Community Service ICC (CS-ICC) is a new council that is its own non-profit corporation that coordinates interclub community service efforts. In the past 6 years the CS-ICC has donated over $135,000 to Meals on Wheels and Send Hunger Packing as a result of Princeton TruckFest, an annual interclub fundraiser that began in the spring of 2012. Cap member Lisa Schmucki '74 helped to found the CS-ICC Corp. and serves as Treasurer.
- P-Cubed is an interclub group to coordinate better quality, more efficient and affordable services for the clubs. It was founded in 2015 under the leadership of Tom Fleming and Chuck Freyer '69, the Vice Chair of Cannon Club with the goal of getting better coverage at lower cost while coordinating risk reduction to get better insurance for all of the clubs, and successfully negotiated better coverage at a lower cost for all eleven clubs. Additional areas of expense reduction are now being looked at by Chuck Freyer, who serves at the Chair of Princeton Prospect Purchasing Group ("P-Cubed.")

- The Princeton Prospect Foundation (PPF), under the leadership of Sandy Harrison '74, Terrace Club member, has strengthened the tax status of the PPF as a 501(c)(3) that supports the historic designation and preservation of the clubs and accepts donations for the individual clubs that are tax deductible when used for qualifying purposes. Cap's House Chair Karl Pettit '67, who has a keen interest in historical preservation, represents Cap on the PPF Board.

Princeton Eating Clubs are unique institutions that benefit from an unprecedented degree of leadership, mentorship, and oversight to ensure best practices for safety and conduct, mentorship of undergraduates on leadership and service initiatives, and management and financial responsibility.

Cap's involvement with Princeton is not limited to Prospect Street. While many of you know that three consecutive Supreme Court Justices came from Princeton, how many of you know that when Katie Hall '80 steps down at the end of June as the first female chair of the University Board of Trustees and is succeeded by Louise Sams '79, that will be the fourth consecutive chair from Cap? Bob Rawson '66 and Steve Oxman '70 were the first two.

Thank you to our 2018 Cap Donors

The following Cap members donated $100 or more to Cap and Gown in 2018 for the Cap Annual Fund, the Cox Wing, and/or Endowment campaigns. The list does not include alumni who made a pledge in 2018 to be paid at a future date. We thank you all for your generous support!
